

A photograph of a modern architectural structure. The upper portion features a large glass facade with a curved, undulating pattern. Below this is a lower section made of dark brown brick. A small, rectangular plaque or sign is visible on the brick wall. The sky is clear and blue.

Het Nieuwe Instituut

A practical implementation of LOD

Michelle Boon & Loïs Hutubessy
13th of September 2022

Michelle Boon
Project lead LOD

Loïs Hutubessy
Collection Data Manager

Outline

- Dutch digital heritage reference architecture (DERA)
- Practical implementation: The Other Interface
- Towards an LOD-ready database
- Kick-start: Mini-HackaLOD
- Where are we now?
- Future directions
- Lessons learned

Dutch digital heritage reference architecture (DERA)

Practical Implementation: The Other Interface

Practical Implementation: The Other Interface

Practical Implementation: The Other Interface

Practical Implementation: The Other Interface

LOD-ready database

Mini-HackaLOD

Mini-HackaLOD

Mini-HackaLOD

1 record

Theo van
Doesburg

SPARQL Query

To what people is Theo van Doesburg related?

1 source:

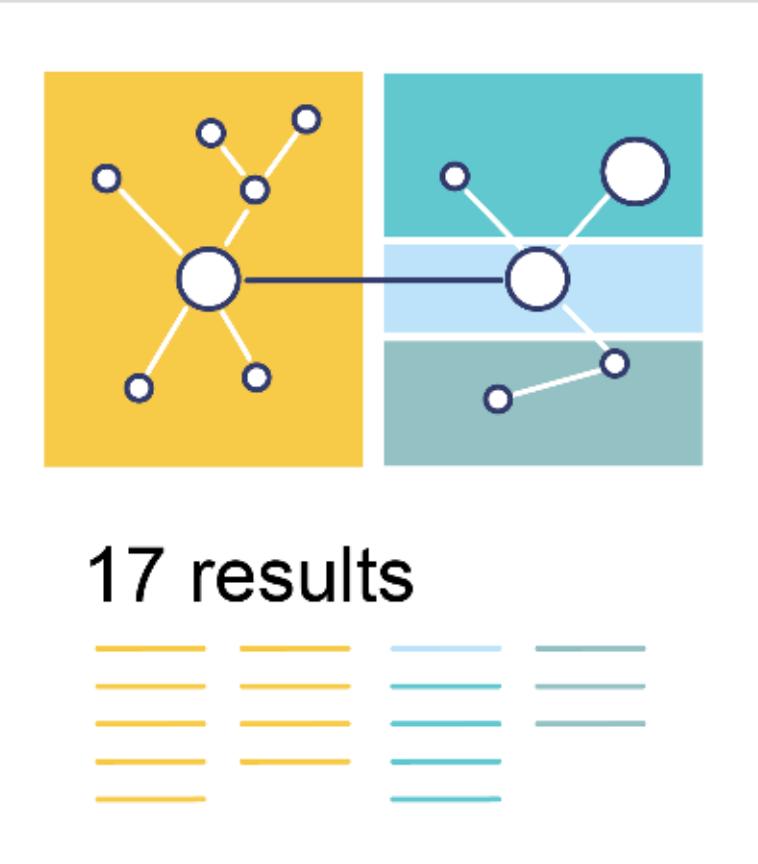

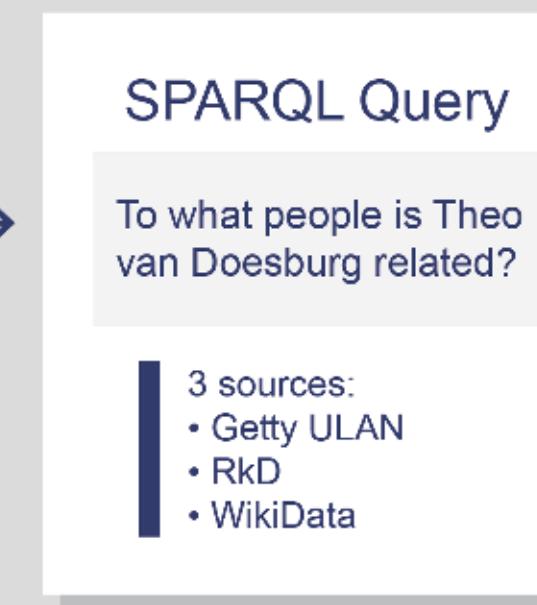

- Het Nieuwe Instituut

Mini-HackaLOD

Mini-HackaLOD

Mini-HackaLOD

Where are we now?

- Policies in place, but still in development
  - Copyright policy and rights statements
  - Registration guidelines
- Persistent Identifiers assigned to collection data
  - URI Strategy in Concept
- Semantic mapping is done for a prioritized set of fields
- SPARQL-endpoint up and running
  - Soon to be open to the public

Future Directions

Lessons learned along the way

1.

2.

3.

Questions?

Michelle Boon
m.boon@hetnieuweinstituut.nl

Loïs Hutubessy
l.hutubessy@hetnieuweinstituut.nl